

I am thrilled with the outcome of the Do Not Call Registry. Since it has be enacted I can tell you that I rarely received telephone solicitations at home. I would be greatly disappointed if the telephone consumer protection act is altered to be less stringent. It is very disturbing to be harassed by telemarketers at all hours of the day and night.